About the Conference

The International Conference on Frontiers of Sustainability (FOS 2026 – GRIE), organized by the Research Centre at Thiagarajar School of Management, will bring together global experts to discuss sustainable innovation and development. The event will feature research papers and pitches on topics like climate change, social equity, and digital transformation, aligning with the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). It aims to empower participants to create collaborative, sustainable solutions for a globalised world.

Collaborating Institutes

Thiagarajar School of Management (TSM), Madurai, India

Established in 1962, a premier institute offering quality management education in a lush 17-acre campus. The institute began with Executive Development Programs and later launched its MBA in 1972, followed by a full-time MBA in 1986. TSM offers AICTE-approved MBA and PGDM programs, accredited by the National Board of Accreditation (NBA) and awarded an 'A+' grade by NAAC for academic excellence. In recognition of its standards, TSM is consistently ranked among the top 100 B-schools in India by the NIRF Rankings. The institute offers a PhD program affiliated with Alagappa University. With strong industry linkages, excellent placement records, and a focus on holistic education, TSM equips students with managerial, analytical, and life skills while providing rich exposure through internships, research, and consultancy opportunities.

ICN Business School, France

A French Business School with campuses in Paris, Nancy, and Berlin. It's known for its interdisciplinary approach, emphasizing creativity and innovation in business education, and holds prestigious triple crown accreditation (AACSB, EQUIS, and AMBA) & QS Ranking 51. The school offers a range of programs from Bachelor's to Master's levels, including specialized programs in areas like corporate finance and digital marketing.

Università degli Studi di Napoli Federico II, Italy

Founded in 1224, one of the World's oldest academic institutions in continuous operation, one among the ten universities globally in continuous operation since its inception (QS Ranking 379). The University hosts 24 Interdepartmental research centres and 17 Interuniversity research centres and is an institution that actively promotes research activities. The Institute actively collaborates with other research institutions, both within Italy and with International Institutions.

University of Sussex, United Kingdom

A public research university located in Falmer, East Sussex, England. The University received its Royal Charter in August 1961, the first of the Plate Glass University generation. Overall QS Ranking 278 among the world University rankings in 2026. In the Research Excellence Framework, out of the 89% research submitted, 40.6% are regarded as "world-leading" or "Internationally excellent" 48.4% as per the 2021 REF rankings.

School of Business, Universiti Teknologi Brunei (UTB), Brunei

It is a leading institution committed to cultivating innovative, ethical, and globally-minded business leaders. Offering undergraduate, postgraduate, and professional programs, the School emphasizes practical learning, research excellence, and entrepreneurship development. With a strong focus on integrating technology, sustainability, and Islamic business values, UTB's School of Business equips students to navigate complex business environments and contribute effectively to Brunei's Smart Nation initiatives.

Center for Application Economics Research (CAER), Ton Duc Thang University in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam

CAER committed to promoting superior research, education, and policy discourse in the fields of economics and finance. CAER encourages interdisciplinary collaboration, advocates for evidence-based solutions for sustainable development, and establishes robust connections among academics, industry, and politicians. CAER significantly aids Vietnam's integration into the global academic and professional world through its research and training activities.
